

(1) The first section of the report is devoted to a general survey of the situation in the country at the present time. It is found that the country is in a state of general depression and that the people are suffering from want and distress. The cause of this is attributed to the war and the consequent loss of property and the disruption of the normal life of the country.

(2) The second section of the report deals with the question of the relief of the distressed people. It is suggested that the Government should take steps to provide relief to the people in the form of food, clothing, and shelter. It is also suggested that the Government should take steps to provide employment for the people in order to enable them to earn their own living.

(3) The third section of the report deals with the question of the reconstruction of the country. It is suggested that the Government should take steps to reconstruct the country in order to enable it to return to its normal state. It is also suggested that the Government should take steps to provide education for the people in order to enable them to improve their standard of living.

(4) The fourth section of the report deals with the question of the future of the country. It is suggested that the Government should take steps to ensure the future of the country by providing for the needs of the people and by maintaining law and order. It is also suggested that the Government should take steps to provide for the welfare of the people in order to enable them to live in peace and harmony.
